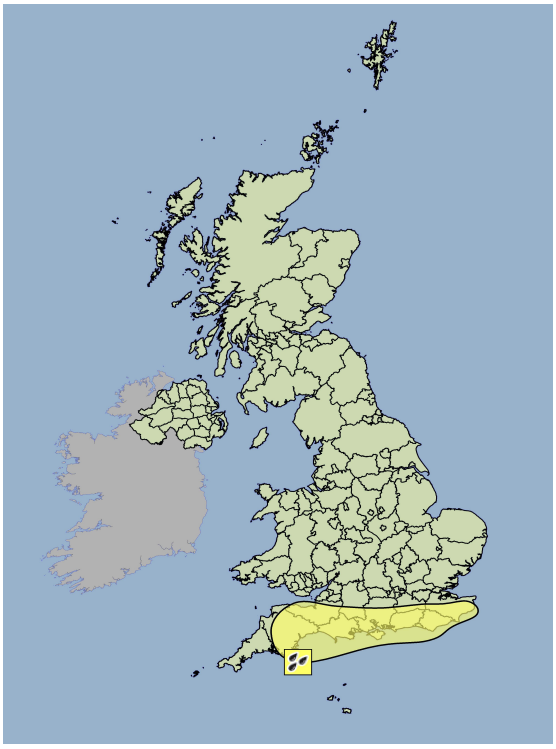
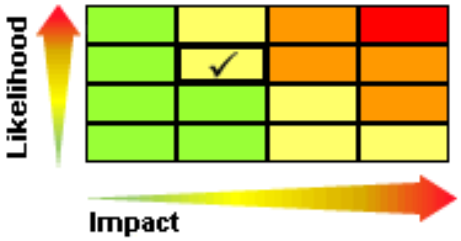
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
The area of low pressure is still associated with bands of sometimes heavy showers, these affecting parts of southern England, although some drier, brighter areas have now opened up.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 12:15 on Tue, 28th Jan 2014 until 23:45 on Tue, 28th Jan 2014

Frequent showers, some heavy, will bring a further 10-15 mm through the rest of Tuesday. This updates the warning issued yesterday, with lesser amounts from now on.

The public should be aware of the potential for disruption due to localised flooding, especially where the ground is already saturated.
